

Tuesday, April 20, 2010 —
Atlantic City Country Club

Our Host: Eric Westervelt

Eric's tenure at ACCC includes 9+ years as assistant superintendent before he took the lead reins in the fall of '07. He holds a BT in plant science and an AS in turfgrass management from SUNY [State University of New York] Cobleskill.

Eric's career history includes serving as assistant super at North Shore Country Club, intern at Piping Rock Golf Club [both on Long Island, NY], and an internship at Augusta National (1997 Masters). Eric and his wife Susan have three children: sons Eric and Craig, along with daughter Kelly.

Our Speaker: Jim Nagle

Topic: Bunker Construction & Maintenance

Jim Nagle has been with Forse Design since early 1998 and has been practicing golf course design for 12 years. He graduated from West Virginia in 1993 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Landscape Architecture.

Jim was the lead architect on the Nationally recognized (Top 5 Restoration of the Year – Private Clubs 2007) restoration of Tavistock Country Club.

The Course: Atlantic City Country Club

Since its founding in 1897, Atlantic City Country Club has hosted six USGA major championships. The Course has a tradition of fast and firm greens. Its bayside setting is reminiscent of the historic links in Scotland and Ireland. From the back tees, the par-70 course measure 6,577 yards with a rating of 72.3 and a slope of 133.

Past projects include a complete renovation after the 2007 season. Drainage upgrades and expansion of the naturalized areas are planned for the future. Assistants at ACC are Kevin Nelson and Vern Clarke.
